

Mediator Roundtable

“The Art of Reflecting”

Reflecting what parties say is one of the core skills taught in mediation trainings regardless of the model. However, once mediators are in the room it becomes clear that how and what mediators reflect is more of an art.

Join us as we discuss the theory behind using reflections in mediation and share our experiences with using this skill. There will also be some “ears-on” exercises to explore this “art” form in more depth.
